NATIONAL AWARDS PRESENTATION TO LOCAL COMPANY Local Company Wins “Big”

Dallas, Texas (February 3, 2012): The Spray Polyurethane Foam Alliance (SPFA) presented their national awards of excellence last Wednesday. Spray-Tec, headquartered in Shelbyville, Kentucky, emerged a grand prize winner.

Spray-Tec was one of only two nationwide winners who captured the crystal sculpture awarded in the category of roofs under 40,000 sq. ft. Nominations were received throughout the previous 12 months from across the country in this annual gala event. Culled from an extensive list to four finalists, Spray-Tec's work on the Paris High School Fine Arts/Cafeteria building was judged by peers to be the best in the industry. Nominations are judged independently by a panel of industry experts. Nominations are anonymous to the panel who vote securely online from their home state.

Spray-Tec has been an accredited spray foam contractor for many years. Meeting professional standards set by the Alliance, Spray-Tec commits to improving their staff and product through continual education and accreditation. As a new national award winner they are poised to share their expertise on many local residential and commercial insulation projects.

The SPFA is the voice and educational arm of the polyurethane foam industry. The SPFA delivers training, industry certification, and leadership on energy conservation, the environment, health & safety, building codes and technical advances in the industry. Members are professional contractors, manufacturers and distributors who strive to educate, regulate and improve the trade.
